

Born To Rise

Only those who accept defeat will eventually win.

Only those who have nothing to lose will risk it all.

Only those who aren't afraid of the fall will jump.

Leave it all, burn the boats.

They'll tell you "no", they'll say "give up", but you will only lose those battles that are not fought.

The greatest voices once were weak, before they took what they have to rise and speak.

The stars can't shine without the night, and storms must pass to see the light.
The fire inside will sometimes fade, but that's where you will show your real face,
don't let the fear make your dreams afraid.

When you feel you've had enough, when you would throw everything overboard,
stand tall, stand strong.

Forget the pain, forget the doubt, you must fight against your odds, because only those who take a leap of faith will win.

When you are down,
look at the scars you wear, those are the proof of the tests you've faced,
use them to keep going, don't let it be in vain.

Through all those sleepless nights and all that endless pain, the sun will rise, you'll rise again.
Because no dream is lost if you keep it alive.

One day you will see, from the top of the mountain, the road you walked, the tears you cried.
And when you stand where your dreams come true, you'll know the strength was born in you.
